

What's a Christian, Grandma?

Mary Stockland

Sharing Jesus with Children Is Easy

While visiting with her grandparents one day, nine-year-old Emma is intrigued when she hears her grandmother mention the word Christian. Having never heard this word before, Emma's curiosity is piqued, causing her to question her grandmother, "What's a Christian, Grandma?"

This question sparks a beautiful and heartwarming conversation that is tender, yet informative, as Emma learns from her grandmother the truth of sin, forgiveness, Jesus Christ as the only way to salvation, and what it means to be a Christian.

Emma ultimately leaves the visit with a revelation about herself that she had never known before, as a new and better person, and having the gift of salvation and a new relationship with Jesus Christ that will change her life forever.

Audience:

What's a Christian, Grandma? Is a perfect book for Christian grandparents, great-grandparents, and parents looking to share their faith with children between the ages of six and ten years-old.

This fun and heartwarming story is a simple yet fun way to share the Gospel of Jesus Christ and teach a child the characteristics of being a Christian.

"I am the Lord; those who hope in Me will not be disappointed."

Biography:

Twenty-four years ago, I felt beaten down, afraid, and discouraged with life, so I cried out to God for help.

Today I am living proof that if you call on your Heavenly Father for help, He does answer. Wanting to learn more about the Bible, God, and Jesus, I began attending church and a weekly Bible study. This was where I learned what Jesus did for me on the cross.

Since then, a transformation has taken place in me that could only be by the hand of God. For the past several years I have felt a strong calling to write for the Lord's glory. He has been filling me with inspiration beyond my belief, and I am very excited to share everything I have learned.

Through my writing I hope to inspire and encourage children and adults.
